General Comment

Government should not be helping corporations to use AI to ("train" and) steal from Americans' livelihoods, nor profit off the theft of their work. Those requirements - which are there to protect actual Americans and the work they produce - are necessary; the requirements are not burdensome; and they do not hamper private sector innovation. Any company or industry claiming otherwise is crying wolf.

AI is overhyped (and it's definitely not intelligence in any sense), and taxpayer money must not be used to try to pull the wool over the eyes of the American public.

AI is not the future of the U.S.; actual Americans are.
