General Comment

Hi, my name is Brandon King. Currently, I have several occupations but among them, I am a musician and part of a large community of fellow musicians, filmmakers, painters and others.

I use this space to make clear I do not support AI in the future of U.S policy, decisions, and certainly not in what I believe to be fruitless and insulting archiving of the materials of artists.

AI has mass potential for exploitation of communities currently under few protections, communities who are using every scrap of time, energy and, yes, money, to make the world a more interesting place. In their place, a world with AI under few regulations, barriers and limits would force those people to rethink any creative priority they have, and I will not stand for that to happen.

Simply making my voice heard is a terrifying prospect, but an option I will use in the case that it is available to me. I will not stand by while thousands - if not millions of artists - risk losing their small spaces of independence because AI developers rely on those artists' expressions to make secondhand dollars instead of using their influence to protect and compensate that creativity.

I do appreciate you taking the time to read this, thank you sincerely.
