General Comment

OpenAi hurts people, businesses, companies and partnerships. Records show that usage of Ai for self-promotional reasons and replacement of other people's services has lost them more money than making it. The more you shove this into our faces, the less people will be willing to work for other companies; and when their businesses are at the brink of shutting down, they won't be hearing back from the people they've stolen from. Desperation leads to oblivion.
