General Comment

I do not believe the further development of AI holds the American people's interest at heart. It steals from hardworking people not for the betterment of the American people but rather its for cheating people out of their livelihood. It purely is profiting off of theft. And not only does it steal, it provides security risks that people who know nothing about AI have no concept of. Letting the creators of AI products fun freely to do whatever they will exclusively ruin this country. Contain this threat before its too late.
