General Comment

I will be simple and brief. AI is an abomination on every conceivable level, a grift as empty and transparent as the emperor's new clothes. It is theft, as it requires endless reams of intellectual property (i.e., works if art OpenAI does not own) to make its "content." It is an environmental disaster, requiring obscene amounts of power to produce even the smallest results. And it's widespread usage will kill businesses, disenfranchise artists, and create a nightmare media landscape where the truth will be harder to discern and act upon than ever before. Please abandon these plans and think before we allow this nonsense to ruin everything good and decent about this country.
