General Comment

I am a published and working writer and have almost 30 years of my work published on the internet through various sites I sold my work to. I do not want my work to be scaled, scrubbed, studied or whatever euphemism AI developers use to mitigate the actual damage their products do and the actual pay they take from writers and other creatives. Stop this, AI is a throttle on actual human creativity and it is a threat to the livelihoods of creatives and artists across all mediums and genres.
