General Comment

Artificial Intelligence systems require strict rules to prevent the software and systems from training, scrapping, and stealing the intellectual property of hard-working American citizens who have spent hours to decades refining their craft. Artists, innovators, creatives, engineers, and the like have spent thousands upon thousands of hard-working dollars to invigorate the American economy and be seen as American-made, world-class artists.

AI steals the livelihood of Americans who have put in the work to copyright their works, and the American public deserves to understand the full weight of this decision. Let Americans Create and Be Great, Not Machines!
