General Comment

Hello,

My name is Nancy and I am an American Visual Artist. I strongly oppose carving out special exceptions to copyright laws for corporate genAI systems.

Creatives across all mediums use their humanity and lived experiences to create compelling narratives (both written and visual), and that is something a machine can never replicate. It can never develop its own work without directly stealing from creatives. Attempting to sidestep copyright is not innovation, it is theft.

Please protect artists, and protect copyright.

Thank you,
Nancy
