General Comment

I am amongst those who are in the creative fields and I am here to say that AI has no reason to be used in such fields. Whether it is through art, writing, or other media as such, Open AI has no place here. Remember: a machine is taught, not learned. Machines can only do what they are programed to do, not learn as they go. There is no logical reason why AI needs to be used in the creative fields. It is a tool and nothing more. It can not be happy; it can not be sad; it can not be angry.
