General Comment

I am a freelance artist writing to voice my opposition to the AI Action Plan, which would let OpenAI use copyrighted material to train their AI models. Simply put, this is theft and would let OpenAI and companies like it essentially pretend that US copyright laws don't exist, profiting off of stolen material in the process. They have no mechanisms in place to financially compensate the original creators of the works they are training on, let alone credit those original creators. The AI Action Plan would put my livelihood as an artist in danger, and frankly, it has no place in this country's future.
