General Comment

What is being considered by this court is a disgrace. A company that cannot sustain its own technology WITHOUT being exempt from laws protecting individuals is not worth being funded. Any idiot can claim he can create a profitable and sustainable model if he could just ignore law and common human decency. Should we allow companies to pay their workers NOTHING as less wages would surely mean that the company will be more profitable and powerful? If we allow this blatant theft and abuse of personal data and copyrighted works, we are allowing businesses to have more power and privilege over people, a move that will destroy jobs and destabilize an already stressed economy. This is a disgrace.
