General Comment

I am a hardworking American man. Born and raised, lived here my whole life. They always say that the American Dream is starting a business and changing your life. Well I was on that path, doing well for myself too. That is, until AI began stealing and plagiarizing from our company. Since then, we've had a lot of trouble. I write to you today to say: if you believe in American business, American people, American workers, you will not let this big corporations steal whatever they want from whoever they want. Whether they are big businesses stealing from each other, or stealing from small town and every day people. It's anti-American, anti-entrepreneur, and Americans will not stop fighting against this. We will take it back to court if we have to. We will class action lawsuit if we have to. AI is dangerous, and hurting this country. If you believe the American Dream is earned, not stolen, you will not let AI use copyrighted works.
