General Comment

This cannot stand. I'm a writer. My right to defend my work, my copyright is not a "unnecessarily burdensome requirement" of the country. It sickens me that certain persons want to use the the hard work of others without their consent to produce low quality software that is meant to replace human made work, specifically the arts. A country that allows this to pass is not a country I am proud of and not one I want to live in. I am deeply ashamed of the US that this act even exists in this form. You have to be a very small person to even remotely support this.
