General Comment

Please do not let this pass! It is blatant theft from the American people. If this administration is really about putting the citizens first, AI should not be able to run amok and plagiarize off of us. There will always be a large majority fighting against this type of technology. The hype can only last so long. We, the people, will make sure that developing this tech to steal will be a waste of time. We will not blindly accept this.
