General Comment

To Whom it may concern,

As a human being in the creative sector, my income relies on copyright remaining a strong tenant of the American economy. It is my belief, as I know it is for most in the industry, that allowing AI companies to continue to freely steal our data and our creative outputs (an integral sector of the economy!), will do irreparable damage not only to America's standing as a global creative leader, but on an individual level, to our incomes.

Independent contractors like me already pay much higher taxes for the 'luxury' of doing our jobs. If our livelihoods are destroyed by giving over all of our work to a handful of companies, it would undercut the middle and lower income classes, leaving us even more unable to keep up with inflation.

We're already drowning. Do not allow AI companies to hold our heads under the water.

Thank you.
