General Comment

If anyone else were to commit massive violations like this they'd face appropriate consequences. Nobody is above the law unless you are wealthy apparently.

If we have any decency at all this should be put to rest and everyone put in their place.

As a creative myself I do not condone the use of my work to train someone else's generation AI and I have never felt compelled to use it in my work. I am not a thief and do not condone theft.
