General Comment

This request is completely unlawful, and violates all personal copyright of every living and dead human being who has ever and will ever create something. Those who try to justify it are asking permission to make stealing legal, and it is horrifying that it has gotten this far. Under no circumstances should AI be allowed to train on copyrighted work. AI should not be able to steal from every mega corp, and citizen like this. We live in a nightmare. Do the right thing and strike this down immediately.
