General Comment

First of all, no. Absolutely no “AI” autocorrect but worse.

Second of all, you all clearly need to be told that we would like robots to do the dishes and wash the floors, not interpret humans, draw things, or write stories. If the people making this stuff ever figured out that they have to be likeable people who practiced at stuff to get better at it, we wouldn’t be here. But here we are with mediocre nitwits who want to take shortcuts off of cliffs because they decided to remove the guardrails.

So, no AI and please go yeet yourself into the sun.
