General Comment

As a creative, the propagation of GenAI into the general public has made me feel like my livelihood is being threatened. Why strive to become a better artist when my superiors could just use an AI to replace me? On top of that, I don't feel comfortable sharing my art with others in fear of it being stolen to be used to train AI. I would want to at least be able to opt-out, and at most be able to receive compensation for my work being used
