General Comment

Artists work HARD for our art. Art and animation is one of my only reasons for living. Making art and music is literally what makes humans...human. You can literally tell the difference between art, or music, or movies, that were churned out just to make a profit, and art that was made with real love and passion. People are flocking to indie series and music BECAUSE they can feel the love that was poured into said projects, and so much of the industry has been overrun with empty corporate slop. If you give gen AI free reign, it's only going to deteriorate creative industries further, and will eventually even cause the corporate fatcats to lose money, because no one's going to want to see anything made by AI anymore. AI has its uses, but STEALING FROM ARTISTS AND MAKING GENERATED SLOP IS NOT ONE OF THOSE USES.

Hands off our art!
