General Comment

If AI technology only has a CHANCE to succeed by stripping the rights of American citizens and their copyright protections, than it has no place in the future of American's business. As an American consumer and taxpayer, I should not have to worry about theft at such a scale that could leave myself and my family financially doomed. If our government cares about its people it should recognize that this can ONLY harm the millions who supply food and shelter to their families through their safely copywritten work.
