General Comment

I believe if this is allowed to progress then america loses its most valuable export, entertainment. You are allowing AI datasets to minimize the vast resources of American made, cultural copy written works of art into literal worthlessness for no tangible benefit to anyone outside of the companies running AIs development. What did they do to earn the privilege to take our countries collective history of art, music, movies, TV and games for their own benefit? They're not invested in the expansion of America as the leading cultural destination of the world. Their products would only reduce all of what we make for the rest of the world into middling, milquetoast drivel. It's awful, gross, corrupt and frankly, it stinks! And, I don't like it!
