General Comment

As a private citizen of the US, an artist, and a vocalist, I am not comfortable with private companies utilizing my art or voice to train any AI models without my consent or knowledge. To give corporations the power to disrespect my agency and the ways in which I make money and pay taxes is unlawful, unoriginal, and un-American.

If we truly wanted to care about our "competition" against China, focus on education instead of trying to gut it and truly work to make America Great by trying to improve the lives of its citizens instead of the pockets of billionaires.
