General Comment

I'm an artist. I love making art. Yes I might gripe about parts of the process taking time or being tedious, but art is an act of expression. Generative AI sees art as a means to an end. Its overinflated valuation is based entirely on the acts of expression that it guzzled down without permission. It treats art as output. As a product. It's gross. Artists of all kinds have pushed back against AI. Listen to us please.
