General Comment

This action has the precedent to completely invalidate all copyright law. Normally I am very critical of copyright law, but in this case, something is better than nothing. Doing so would invalidate all Art, Science, Journalism, and even simple Commerce in the USA. Go Ahead, fight against the basic Economy, watch your political ambitions be buried. Watch everything the USA has worked on for damn near 300 years get thrown out because you don't know what the bathwater looks like, living in your ivory castle.
