General Comment

As someone who values my privacy and also values the integrity of my own works and my own rights, AI agencies having the ability to be immune to lawsuits and being allowed to scrape from anything is a massive safety risk and is also something I'm not consenting to in the slightest. Additionally, stuff like this will allow for people to create deepfakes of anything from porn of children to incorrect government statements from officials. It is a threat to both national security and citizens, and will not be used for anything good at all.
