General Comment

Generative AI that is allowed to exclude itself from copyright restrictions is not AI anymore, it is a tool of neofascism. It is against interests both capitalistic and otherwise. It steals from all creative fields, and has no place whatsoever in a country that takes itself even remotely seriously.

If you permit this, you are permitting thievery and plagiarism as the way of the land. Facts do not matter if Generative AI is allowed to stand.

And if you're thinking it will make money: Nvidia lost $600 billion dollars recently.
That was not an accident. It was a bubble deflating. It will pop, and utterly destroy the market and everything that latches on to it.
