General Comment

AI should not be exempt from copyright laws and should not be allowed to legally steal from the hard work of actual human creators. It doesn't have a place in the future of the United States, and it is both over hyped and also is swindling the American public who do not know the actual impact of it.

AI also steals from the livelihoods of Americans including myself, and actively profits off of such theft to line the pockets of the few who know what it is actually doing. I ask that as a fellow American, please reject this regulation and disallow both OpenAI and all AI companies from being able to steal from us.
