General Comment

AI developers should be held to the same standard as private citizens or academics. You need to pay to use copyrighted material in your work. Be it for research in a fan-fiction art piece, or a research paper, copyright needs to be protected. We have means to bypass copyright which is called "fair use". Fair use is determined by the courts whose job it is to interpret laws and the Constitution. Not by the executive to make their own carve outs that they want to.
