General Comment

Hey! As a writer and artist, AI text and image generating programs actively cause harm, have been proven to have no monetary value, and generally have no use due to the fact that many now know how to spot such things and consider companies and products that use it to be worthless garbage.

This also has devastating effects, especially considering copyright, for artists and writers who can only make money through what they make. There is no reason to keep AI text and image generation around legally, especially considering many companies that use it have stated that they are specifically using it for the negative affects it causes.
