General Comment

"Artificial intelligence" is a ploy to erase artists and creators from the act of art making, to steal their works so that an elite group of tech investors can profit without compensating the human beings whose hard work and talent they are stealing to make a simulacra of human achievement. At best, we don't know enough about how these technologies work or what their practical applications may be. At worst, this is an assault on our very humanity and a devastation for all workers in all creative fields. Please do not move forward with this.
