General Comment

The corporations running this country are stealing from the common citizens non-stop. Wage theft, artificial inflation, subscription schemes, insurance scams. Now they're trying to make it legal to take our intellectual property and make us pay for it as consumers. How do they not understand that there's only so much to take. Without workers to make their products or customers to buy them to they have no business. No business means no new yacht to match your new vacation compound. No new mistresses to make you feel big. Just a handful of assholes left in a circle jerk of "power".

Stop the [REDACTED] stealing.
