General Comment

As an artist, AI has shown time and time again to me its threat to my artwork, and the artwork of my peers. I've seen models trained off of artists without their permission, and I've seen people get scammed off art "trained" off of the stolen artwork of the artists they're trying to mimic. Its a direct threat to our already unprotected way of business. AI must be stopped from ruthlessly scraping the content of artists just trying to make a living. Any content someone makes, belongs to them, and it should remain that way.
