General Comment

AI is not a tool for the future but something created to steal the work of others. It is not useful to our every day life to create a machine that is based off of things already existing, pretending to create something new. We need to put money into funding more art programs and more tech programs, not funding the end of those spaces. AI is not a useful tool. It steals the ideas of others and destroys the planet in the process. No more govt funding for AI.
