General Comment

It doesn't matter if you're the first with AI technology, did you learn nothing from DeepSeek? If you put it out there, it'll just get stolen again and again and again, opening up security risks for the American people because you believe that the regurgitating word machine is telling you the truth. AI is lying to you, the people behind AI are lying to you and you're going to end up investing money in technology that doesn't exist and won't work.

This plan is a WASTE.
