General Comment

AI does nothing but steal from humans to make a bastardized version of "art" that is insulting to the nature of humanity. No "ai race" is worth putting at risk thousands of years of shared human knowledge and experience and expression. Protect art, artists, and the human soul. If you do not believe in this, think of it simply as unauthorized theft of intellectual property, which it is. As an artist myself, even a hobbyist, I want to know I can share my works with others without fear of a machine taking from me without my consent. You are stealing pieces of artists as well as their possible income source. Artists should be supported and encouraged, and NEVER replaced with machinery in any way. Americans and qll of humanity deserve real art from real life storytellers. To deprive us of this and our liberty to create works without fear of corporations poaching it for money is evil and unforgivable.
