

2/25/2025 via FDMS

Alexander Castro

Hello, I am in full support of the action plan. In order to maintain American lead, we need to support and finance research. Cutting of this funding will result in America's ability to stay ahead. As a parent of an 11 year old learning about AI programming, I am very concerned if funding to critical institutions such as universities is reduced in these critical technologies then America will fall behind and our physical and economic security will suffer.