If you do not uphold the copyright protections with regards to AI use, those training AI will be able to steal from our children, from vulnerable artists, and anyone who has ever created anything available online. To allow this to come to pass is a gross breach of public trust, and of safety and security for online Americans everywhere. I implore you, uphold Copyright protection, protect our people from the unscrupulous heads of the industry who would abuse this breach of human rights to steal from the American public.
