To legalize the push for AI to openly access public works is predatory and allows irresponsible businessmen and corporations to infringe and capitalize on artwork and literature that has taken every individual creator extensive labor and heart to create. Not only does this risk professionals but also regular citizens that create for themselves and enjoyment for others. To allow such a plan any approval strips any moral value to all creatives that are just trying to get by. It is all for scam and if passed will lead to an incredible destructive ripple to everyone facet of business that thrives on creative freedom and cause fear to anyone that wants to publish their works in any internet media.
