

3/13/2025 via FDMS

Michael Buchanan, [REDACTED]

As an artist, I firmly believe in the protection of Copyright as it stands against AI. AI scraping should be reserved to only those who gain permission, via the copyright holder, to scrape for AI. Removing that protection will suddenly put many jobs in danger of being replaced by AI that could've gone to American Citizens as AI would be able to scrape their content and voices, allow for IPs owned by Americans to suddenly be twisted into scams and cause corporations to lose battles against those who misuse their AI, and would throw Fair Use into the gutter. Regulations must be made for AI to prevent the loss of protected works.