

From: boogiesnar -
To: ostp-ai-rfi
Subject: [External] AI Action Plan
Date: Sunday, March 16, 2025 9:30:20 AM

CAUTION: This email originated from outside your organization. Exercise caution when opening attachments or clicking links, especially from unknown senders.

Name of submitter: David Gosser

This is from an individual US citizen, not a business.

“This document is approved for public dissemination. The document contains no business-proprietary or confidential information. Document contents may be reused by the government in developing the AI Action Plan and associated documents without attribution.”

I want my opinion known that scraping data without consent is theft. The double standard is evident here, when an individual artist can get strung up for using someone else’s material, but if it’s an AI tool big-business, they have the right to use alllllll the data and images on these sites without any artist consent. Hold onto your standards and don’t abuse the individuals to support these companies.

One other important note: the energy costs of these AI technologies are ASTRONOMICAL. This can’t be understated. We are already facing the issue of climate change, wars over resources, and energy crisis— and the rapid expansion of AI is making these issues much worse, not better.

Sent from my iPhone

All e-mails to and from this account are for NITRD official use only and subject to certain disclosure requirements.
If you have received this e-mail in error, we ask that you notify the sender and delete it immediately.