To whom it may concern:

I oppose the use and expansion of AI on grounds of national security, theft of ideas and labor, technology security, and market vulnerability. AI makes Americans less safe at home and abroad, including deployed military. It destroys jobs in creative and tech sectors. Because it is prone to errors, it will cause expensive coding issues that will lose corporations and individuals money. AI has the potential to destabilize entire economies.

Instead of seeing it as a panacea, we must envision the many ways it can ruin companies and families and establish failsafes before unleashing it further.

Thank you.
