

3/13/2025 via FDMS

JL, [REDACTED]

So-called generative "AI" technology is nothing more than intellectual property theft writ large. The products it generates are subpar and cobbled together using stolen data. The information it offers is frequently incorrect or outright fabricated. It is a dying industry that only got this far because of corporate interests seeing how it allows them to destroy American jobs and pocket more money by slowly poisoning the American creative landscape.