As a concerned veteran and American, I absolutely oppose this plan top to bottom. AI is the theft of artwork and literature produced not only by Americans, but across the world. The ground you will be walking into has absolutely no use in terms of a product, no military uses, no medical uses, simply nothing of value aside from a plagiarism machine.

There is extraordinary and ethical AI out there that needs to be empowered, that is aiding in predicting weather patterns, aiding in curing disease and helping Doctors work with their patients and yes, even military uses for AI. But simply scraping the property of Americans will not achieve any of these beautiful, practical uses and will signal that copyright is only for the wealthy and elite and that the typical artist has no right to their own work.
