Re: National Science Foundation's Request for Information on the Development of an Artificial Intelligence (AI) Action Plan

I am sure you have received many emails on all of the bad things about OpenAI such as stealing the hard work and lively hoods of artists as well as all the environmental destruction it causes but I am going to speak of the future and the things you have over looked. AI is going to be the death of art in this country if it continues. It will take everything from the art community and anyone that once inspired artists to create what they love.

I have a sister and she is just finishing up high school. She wanted to be an artist most of her teen years but now has switched to something else because she believes there will be no future for her. Do you have any idea how heartbreaking it is to see someone so young giving up on a dream not because she can't but because evil corrupt companies will steal from her instead of pay her for her work?

I will conclude my email with a brief look into the future. OpenAI survives on stealing from artists, so what happens when there are no more artists to steal from? Once they get what they want and art is dead every project created will look the same. Where there once was color and expression there will only be grey AI generated works that all look the same. So we need to do all we can to save art in this country.

Thank you for your time and the chance to speak my piece.
