To Whom it May Concern:

I am a private citizen. I am deeply concerned that this Action Plan calls for removing essentially all guardrails - what is referred to as "unnecessarily burdensome requirements"- in the development and deployment of AI. Virtually unregulated AI allows for worst case scenarios and rampant abuse and misuse of data and metadata. Additionally, everything that anyone creates that is within reach of AI will be fair game for appropriation without compensation, regardless of copyright laws.

The power of AI is immense and will only grow. Lack of best practices and reasonable regulation invites abuse that can have disastrous impacts on individuals and entities. I urge you to proceed with caution. America can be a leader in this field AND do so ethically and safely. It is the government's responsibility to make sure we do so.
