I believe AI has an important place in the future, and America should be the leader in AI technology, however there are currently outstanding serious ethical concerns on many fronts that must be addressed, before a wide majority of the population will be willing to accept AI being used.

Currently, AI stands to threaten millions of jobs, as employers are entirely willing to replace live workers with AI wherever possible, with no regard for the quality of the service provided by said AI. Regulations need to be implemented here, ones that safeguard workers, and protect intellectual property per our current laws.

AI in the creative space is flagrantly violating US copyright laws, and accepting whatever slap on the wrist might apply as they scrape and steal creative works across the internet without the consent of the creators. This MUST be addressed before the US can become the leader in AI technology.
