Hello my name is Sarah Maul, I do not agree with the laws being changed so any AI company can just use anything they want without agreements with those that own it. All this will do is hurt all sectors of our country and make anything stealable under the idea it's for AI generation. If protections are taken away this could make anything anyone makes from any company be able to be stolen without any legal ramifications. This will just hurt our country and hurt our people more. As well make it so much easier for countries against us to steal our stuff too. We do not need AI to be able to steal whatever it wants, what we do need is better protections against AI from taking things without asking the creators first. AI companies should not be given leeway to use anything without being asked since this could lead to a slippery slope of nothing being owned by anyone including our big companies so anyone including other countries can just take what we have made.
