

2/26/2025 via FDMS

Scott Peterson

Regarding the AI investment of $500B... Why are we giving the elite billionaires contracts to make AI that China made for a few million. Sounds like a handout to me. Billions have already been spent and we made an inferior product. Throwing money at this and to Trump's buddies isn't the solution. When the Chinese company that made Deepseek and were interviewed they were asked how they did it so quickly and efficiently. I know you all know the answer they gave. They said it was because of the work environment they built it in. I'd say the solution is to pay and treat workers better but that won't change, that takes money out of the elite's pockets... And now you're essentially donating money to them for the same thing you gave them money for before and..... We had ChatGPT. That was great for a while, until we learned that we were far behind. You deny we are far behind to keep people believing this is the best country. China showed you wrong. You know their practices and how it was done but we are choosing to give money away for a slightly improved product that takes 2 years and by then we are WAY behind China. If you want to stay ahead of China you need more than throwing money at the wealthy and elite. You are wasting our money on a solution that we don't have yet. It's sad to see what's all being taken care of and taken away. More money out of our pockets and more into theirs. Trickle up economics, works almost every time. Nothing that has been done has been America First. It's Billionaire first. Now we're looking at passing a budget bill that takes away more from the average American and trickle it up while prices rise and people can't eat. Get the food and price regulations under control rather than this AI you think we should be working on.