

2/28/2025 via FDMS

Sonia Romero Villanueva

Promote reducing energy consumption and increasing efficiency as one of the top priority policy measures that should be included in the new AI Action Plan. Data centers should mitigate carbon emissions associated with AI energy consumption by transitioning to renewable energy sources, such as solar or wind, and adopting energy efficiency practices. AI must have net zero emissions to keep pace with international climate goals.